LIVE PROJECT

E-Commerce	Levenger	Feb 2024 - Present
------------	----------	--------------------

At Levenger, I helped enhance a web-based product management system that streamlined inventory management, order processing, and sales reporting for the company's diverse catalog, including portfolios, stationery, planners, and leather briefcases.

Roles and Responsibilities

- Assisted in the creation of dynamic, responsive web pages using HTML, CSS, and Bootstrap, focusing on improving user experience.
- Contributed to enhancing page interactivity and functionality through JavaScript.
- Supported the development of RESTful APIs to facilitate smooth interaction between front-end and back-end systems.
- Assisted in data management with Entity Framework, optimizing queries for database interactions.
- Contributed to the development of features for inventory management, such as tracking stock levels and product categorization.
- Assisted in building order processing workflows, ensuring timely and accurate fulfillment.
- Helped implement functionalities for sales reporting, generating real-time reports on product sales, stock levels, and order history using SQL.
- Participated in unit testing, debugging, and optimizing the application to ensure smooth performance.
- Collaborated with cross-functional teams to align the development process with business goals.
- Participated in Agile ceremonies like sprint planning and daily stand-ups, supporting timely delivery of milestones.
